

I am firmly opposed to any change in regulations that would further consolidate the ownership of TV stations. The recent debacle of news coverage in Iraq and the total lack of coverage of this very important rule change is testimony to the need to diversify ownership of broadcast media.